

Call for Special Issue Proposals

Parallèles

Deadline for submitting a special issue proposal (issue 36:1, 2024):
April 1, 2022

Parallèles publishes high-quality original research in translation and interpreting, as well as other forms of multilingual and multimodal communication. The journal is peer reviewed, open access and operates under a continuous publication model. As soon as an article is ready to be published, it will be immediately released online.

Parallèles is a multilingual journal. It welcomes contributions in English, French, German, Spanish and Italian. The journal alternates between thematic and non-thematic issues. Special issue proposals are examined once a year.

Parallèles is indexed with the main scientific databases, including Scopus, the MLA International Bibliography (listed in the Directory of Periodicals), ERIH PLUS, TSB, BITRA and the Directory of Open Access Journals.

Special issue proposals should be submitted via our online form, in either English or French.
